Introduction

IHS (Information Handling Services) is the information provider of technical standards, specifications, codes of practice and parts data for the design and support of systems, products and services. The databases provide full-text image standards. Currently, the Library subscriptions include:

- ASTM (American Society for Testing & Materials) Standard
- AV-DATA
- IEC (International Electrotechnical Commission) Standard

Subject Coverage

Building and Construction
Civil and Structural Engineering
Communications
Computers and Electronics
Consumer Products and Services
Electronic and Mechanical Engineering
Information Technology
Management Systems
Materials and Chemicals
Standards & Technical Specifications

On-line Help

Ask Your Friendly Librarians
Whenever You Need Help